Average time of treatment, four weeks. In all of these cases no particular die was prescribed. The doctor claims, in conclusion of his peper, that the Carlabad Mineral Water, as exported by the city of Carlabad, Peing the natura product, is much to be preferred where the quantity of water is no objection, particularly in diseases of the Stomach. He states that the effect of the Wate and Powder Sprudel Sait is to be relied upon, independently of any adjuncts of treatment, such as die and exercise, whether taken hot or cold, claimin even an advantage when taken cold, as it acts mor decidedly purgative, and that he has given cold the preference, only using the Thee foot of the water employed was two umblerfuls before the preference of the water employed was two umblerfuls before.

The decks have been cleared for action, and the battle royal is about to begin. What the first ballot will disclose is already known. The absorbing curiosity is to know what the third or fourth, or the fifth ballots will show. The men who pull the wires have been up nearly all night and the air of the Convention Hall as it begins to fill is full of rumors, theories and blind guesses. Sherman loomed up last night because of the great demonstration which Foraker's second of Gen. Hasting's nomination of the Ohio Senator's name provoked, but there was a feeling in the city that Sherman would win to-day, and if he does not win to-day he cannot win at all. Yesterday's demonstration is generally believed to be more of a Foraker boom than a Sherman [1, Alger, 2, Allison, 1; Alger, 4. Sherman, 2).

The Pennsylvania delegation is hard to all the morning that the Harrison people have succeeded in making a strong im-pression there, and it is openly boasted that Quay cannot hold his men for Sherman longer than three ballots and that the most of Fitler's votes will go to Harrison after the first ballot. But with all the talk and chatter, and nods and winks of knowing ones who think that they have the straight tip, the conven

The result was received with no sign from the convention as to what impression had been made. Before a second bailot was taken Mr. Smith of Pennsylvania, who had yesterday nominated Edwin H. Filter, withdrew his name. This episode made no stir whatever in the convention, and the withdrawal was made in so low a tone of voice that it was not known that Mr. Filter was ont of the race until the Chair made the announcement himself. The second bailot was then proceeded with. During the announcement of the votes the convention was more sedate than it has been at any time during its sessions. The spectators and delegates were too much interested in noticing the changes from the previous bailot to make a noise or indulge in any demonstration.

Senator Quay had evidently done good work.

California continues to cast her solid vote for Blaine and Massachusetts still outs her wote among nearly all the candidates. Gresham's vote increases, but butmaterially. PENNSTLYAMA DISCUSTED.

When Fennsylvania is reached Senator Quay announces the vote of the State, casting fity-three votes for Sherman as before, and the other ten scattering. Mr. Johnston demands a poil of the delegation which proceeds much to the disgust of the convention.

The poil did not affect the result as announced by Senator Quay, and the ballot was proceeded with. As usual when Virginia was reached a demand was made that the delegation be polled.

On the call of States the third ballot proceeded as follows:

said to a POST-DISPATCH reporter, previous to the opening of this morning's session, that he would wait until the recess, which would occur after four or five ballots had been taken, before saying anything new on the situation. He said the day's programme as far as the managers could control R, was to have a few ballots in which it would be shown that there was a strong combination in the convention against John Sherman. After the first ballot he said there would be a break to Allison, but it would not detract from Harrison's strength, that Harrison would run strongly all through.

The people began to gather some time before noon, shortly after the result of the first balloting was displayed, and as bulletin after bulletin went up so did the crowd grow greater, until it was almost and then quite impossible for the few indifferent to pass without making a detour. Olive street is so devoted to shoppers that when the blockade began two policemen appeared to clear a passage way for ladies through the mass of onlookers. They found their hands full and could not themselves refrain from occasionally barring the passage in the universal interest to see the latest vote. Presently the policemen gave it up, for pedestrians had gathered in such numbers that they not only occupied the entire pavement, but stretched across the street and on the south side, standing in solid masses from east to west as far as they might wait and yet decipher the black letters of the bulletins. There were hundreds of them, and when some were ferced to beat a retreat others just as quickly took their place in the ranks, and long after 2 o'clock when the third ballot had been posted, their number had nowise diminished. Two railroad presidents, DEPEW and ALGER, both millionaires, are candidates for the Republican nomination. The centest for temporary Chairman of the convention was between CREED HAY-MOND, the Central Pacific's attorney, and THURSTON, the Union Pacific's attorney. The permanent Chairman, ESTEE, represents the Republican party of California, which put LELAND STANFORD in The Blaine Conspiracy the Senate to fight against railroad legislation, against the forfeiture of unearned land grants and against the collection of the $100,000,000 which the Pacific rallroads owe the Government. THE Globe-Democrat tells the Blaine men that they place themselves in the attitude of saying that they prefer defeat with BLAINE to success with anybody else, Well, what else did they mean when they caused FOLGER to be beaten by 192,000 votes as a preliminary to the convention of 1884? What else did they mean when in 1884 they doomed the party to its first defeat since 1856? Their meaning is so plain that it goes without saying, and the most obvious interpretation of it is that STAN-FORD, HUNTINGTON, VANDERBILT, GOULD and the schemes of public policy which that kind of men represent have sore need of BLAINE just now, and do not find in any other candidate the audacity and cunning and adroitness to carry out their plans under cover of demagogue cries and misleading issues. Telegraph to the Post-Disparch.
CHICAGO, June 22.—There is little use of devoting space to discussion of the possibilities day. As the Post-Dispatch correspondents have elicited from the start, there is a Blaine programme on hand. That programme, engineered by Elkins, Kerens and other friends of the "Plumed Knight," is to place the 'Plumed Knight'' in nomination after the sons and after it has been demonstrated that the candidates whose names were presented yesterday have no chance for the nomination. Last night it was confidently asserted by Elkins that Blaine would be nominated today. At 2 o'clock this morning Kerens seemed to think that there was some doubt about Blaine's nomination, at least so be expressed himself concerning the complexion of things. He is reported to have said that the contest had arrived at that degree of mixedness which made it impossible for any man to say what the result would be. Still he was hopeful, more than hopeful, in fact san-guine, that the result would interest the Maine statesman.

There is much outspoken and bitter oppositi to Blaine in the convention. Delegates who are apprehensive of his strength shrink from giving credence to the possibility of a Blaine triumph. Several Massachusetts delegates make no bones of erying out that a Blaine old party, and this sentiment repeated and re-emphasized by dividual delegates from other States. young ladies allke for his opponents, and to have his controversies with them in the face was final and that his selection for the Re ground they take is that Blaine's Paris letter publican leadership at this moment and in the lican desolation in the future do not deter the INDICATIONS OF BLAINE STRENGTH. The very best indication of the outcome of the gathering is had in the efforts being put forth this morning at candidates' headquarrouting and defeat by securing them second place on the ticket. The first real work for the Vice-Presidency has been done this morn the managers seem to have concluded to acasked for $150,000. was the strongest possibility for the Presidency outside of Blaine, but in the Harrison camp there was a great deal of friendly mention of Blaine.

THE BLAINE-HARRISON COMBINE.

It was an open secret that the Blaine contingent, with the exception of California, would assist Harrison to a strong vote at the starf, and make the fight apparently between him and Sherman. This would give Harrison a commanding position and equip him for the vice-Presidency, and the programme will be carried out. As this letter is written at 9 a. m. it deals entirely with predictions, but the predictions have such a firm foundation in the plans laid by the chief conspirators here that they can be entirely relied upon. Harrison will get the Vice-Presidency if the Blaine management can deliver it safely wishout offending the Poraker faction or the bar' boomers, who are seeking to give Alger some return for the money has spent in his canvass.

THE TICKLISH POSITION

The Halling Position of the victory they have planned, but it is difficult to see how it is most likely to be Blaine and Harrison, but there is a great chance that are vival of the battle-flag enthusiasm of yesterday may throw the tail to smother California and keep Blaine's name to the wards Ohlo, and give the party Blaine and Foraker for its leaders. Policemen in vain tried to force their way through the dense crowd, but before they reached the combatants the struggle was over. In revenge two Gresham men climbed up and fixed their favorite's pictures on the highest points of the pillars and left them there. Such a scene was never known in Chicago before.

Last night was the last occasion many of the 'clubs' had to shout for their favorite canditates, and they made the most of it. The Alger clubs paraded, the Sherman forces were out and the Gresham glubs repeated their tour of the principal streets with a half dozen bands and myriads of torohlights. The principal Gresham demonstration was composed of a large number of workingmen armed with tin dinner pails and spades, who paraded, headed by the Topeks Flambeau Club. Judging by the profitered wagers the ticket seems to have been settled on as tion held a meeting late last evening at which speech. He represented that Sherman was almost sure to be chosen, and New York being the pivotal State, it was necessary that she cast her seventy-two votes for the winner—that of course, after it had been proved that Depew could not be nominated. The argument was the same as that made to New York all day, namely: If a candidate is named without the help of New York the result will be a lack of confidence in the ticket, for it will be said that if he cannot carry that State he cannot be elected, and if its delegates refuse to vote for him the only reason is that they believe him weak in that State. The only result of the conference, so far as could be learned, was to increase the Sherman vote in New York, on second croice, of course, from 16 to 22, and this may not last.

candidate before this convention has contributed a full share of honorable, patriotic and meritorious service, no man has become, of the whole splendid record, a more inseparable part than he whom I shall name.

My countrymen, the central issue of this campaign is an American policy for the whole American people at home and abroad. Before it all else sinks to insignificance. What though our system of currency be the best in the world. It is an ashievement of Republicanism. What though secession and slavery are gone forever! They were washed away in union blood. What if questions of reconstruction of national credit and public faith have been resolved in favor of the right? They are stars in the party's crown. What though increasing pensions make grateful hearts and smooth the pathways of the nation's bravedefunders? Every deliar of it bears the stamp of Republican approval. What though Republican honesty and foresight swell the federal treasury, wherewith to liquidate a nation's debt? No question of surplus should arise until that debt be paid. But, it is of supremest the bone and sinew of the land, shall not by shuffling cant or sensational policy be made victims of that faise system of political economy which tends to beggary. We welcome the issue—protection or free trade. Let the sovereign freemen in the next election say whether the only Republic founded on the rock of freedom, blessed with every gift of nature, erowaed with imperial powers, enriched by willing hands of honest toll, peaceful, prosperous and homeogenous, shall be dethroned, degraded, pauperized by a party and a policy at war with the very genlus of our national existence.

degraded, paperrise at war with the very genius of our national existence.

'With malice toward none, with charity for all' let the battle lines which ran east and west be now formed from north to south, advancing to seaboard; there to protect the homes and firesides, the peace and prosperity of the nation; and let him who has served so long, so ably and so faithfully be placed in command of the victorious column.

Make him our standard bearer and every principle for which the party has battled, every triumph which it has achieved will be represented in our leader. Nominites him and there will be no sophistry, no fallacy so plausible as to divert the intelligence and common sense of the psopie from the vital issue.

Nominate him and a sense of security, of safety and of condidence in the future will crystallize into triumph and victory.

I nominate the patriot, the statesman, the honest man, John Sherman.

TABERNACLE TALK

A New Filling Machine. B. D. Milliken of Parlor Pride stove enamel ame has just invented a filling machine that is now in successful operation at his head-quarters, on Commercial street, Boston. Filling machines are not uncommon for liquids in which there is no sediment, but for such as have a heavy sediment, as has the Parior Pride liquid enamel, nothing could be found to do the work, consequently one had found to do the work, consequently one had to be designed and constructed to meet the demands of the trade. This Mr. Milliken has done, and it was our privile see the new filler in operation. In a tank, with a capacity of 450 gallons, integenlous device secures a complete mature of the lighter liquid and the sediment, while six cups, working upon a piston that rises and falls, dips secures a complete pexture of the lighter liquid and the sediment, while six cups, working upon a piston that rises and falls, dips from the tank, in rapid succession, the requisite measure of enamel to fill six bottles at a time. These bottles are then passed to an inclined plane, where they come under the directions of the corker. He having rapidly placed a cork in the opening of each bottle the corks are driven home four at a time by a failing hammer, likewise the device of Mr. Milliken, With these appliances at hand and afull complement of skilled help, 200 gross a manifer of the season.

An Important Decision.

The case of the State vs. Schomborg, which was decided by the State Supreme Court a few days ago, involves an interesting point. mborg had been fined in the Police for crueity to animals. The case was appealed to the Court of Criminal Correction, where the ordinance under which the man was fined was attacked. It was claimed it was invalid because there was a State law covering the same offense and there could not be both a city ordinance and state law making the same act an offense. Judge Noonan held there could be and that the ordinance was valid. The State Supreme Court sustained him.

JUDGE LUBKE RESUMES THE HEARING OF

THE ROWAN DIVORCE CASE Bill-A Peculiar Domestic Controversy. New Suits Entered in the Circuit Cour.

To-Day-Matters of Interest in Litigati

Judge Lubke to-day resumed the hearing of the Rowan divorce case. This is a peculiar domestic entanglement, The petition filed by the wife, Mary Rowan, was dismissed, and the hearing is proceeding on the cross-bill filed by the husband, August Bowan. The wite owever, is present in court and is represent ed by counsel. This is not the first appearance of the Rowans in the divorce court, and the wife has still another suit pending. The testimony at the present hearing is confined to the allegations con-tained in the husband's cross-bill. He complains that his condition was rendered intolerable by his wife's conduct manner, and made use of shocking language that she neglected her duties as a wife and remained out at all hours, and that she did everything in her power to make her husband wretched and to humiliate, annoy and distress him. He further alleged that she trie to poison him on two occasions by placing poisonous ingredients in the cakes and tomatoes for supper. Mr. Rowan also made serious allegations against his wife which are unfit for publication. She is a neating, and her quiet demeanor in court favorably impressed all present. On the witnesstand she admitted that for three years she had lived with one Daniel Regan, who supported her regularly during that time. She denied having held herself out as a widow and denied having made the statement that she had obtained a divorce prior to her marrisge with Mr. Rowan.

Has family who lived in a fashlonable suburb, and the crime was committed about 10 o'clock in the morning. The family were all absent from the house at the time, and no one witnessed the murder. Turner and Paterson the indicated his innocence. Turner pleaded guilty, but on the scaffold said Patterson was innocent. He was hung on July 1, 1861. Paterson was tried, convicted, but appealed his case and the lower court was sustained. The Governor respited him three times, but refused to interfer directly.

Patterson protested his innocence on the soaffold. He was strangled slowly to death and four minutes after the drop feil said: "Curse them," and then 'Lord save me." His struggles were frightful. Many people beileve firmly in his innocence and there were strong attempts to secure his pardon.

LOST AND FOUND

HOUSES, ROOMS, ETC., WANTED.

BOARD AND LODGING WANTED.

This splendid property is located on the East Line of Goodfellow Avenue, about one block North of Easton Avenue.

It has the advantage of two lines of Railroads, the extension of the Citizens' Cable and the Cable & Western Railroad, which is only two blocks distant.

The Rinkle property which lies between Garfield Place and the Cable & Western Railroad, has recently been sold to a Syndicate of Capitalists and is being surveyed and subdivided, preparatory to improving the avenues and streets, and there is no doubt that this subdivision will in the near future compare favorably with Chamberlain Park, Cabanne Place and Clemens Place.

GARFIELD PLACE lies upon high, rolling land, having the advantage of perfect natural drainage. The streets—Cote Brilliante Avenue, Garfield Avenue, and North Market Street—have been neatly graded and plank walks laid on either side. Goodfellow Avenue, which separates Garfield Place from the Rinkle property, is likely to be the most prominent North and South Avenue west of Grand Avenue, it passes through the most desirable portions of Chamberlain Park, Cabanne Place and Clemens Place, and is projected through to Forest Park, which is less than one mile distant.

THE PUBLIC SALE OF THIS PROPERTY WILL BE MADE ON SATURDAY, JUNE 23d, AT 3 O'CLOCK, ON THE PREMISES.

No person who can afford to make an investment either for profit or for a home should fail to attend this sale. Frequent offers to purchase at private have been received, but the owners have refused to sell a single lot, there is therefore no fixed price, every lot will be sold on its merits, and people who have the enterprise and sagacity to purchase now will undoubtedly make an investment which will be profitable. The terms of sale are:

ONE-FOURTH CASH. ONE-FOURTH IN ONE YEAR. ONE-FOURTH IN TWO YEARS. ONE-FOURTH IN THREE YEARS.

Deferred payments to bear interest at 6 per cent per annum. Privilege to pay before maturity. $20 required on bidding off each lot. The property will be sold subject to the following restrictions: No Building shall be erected on said reality within 20 feet from the line of the Avenue whereon said lot now fronts.

No Building nor Fence constructed of lumber more than 2 feet in height shall be erected between said building line and said Avenue.

No Stable, Shed or other building shall be erected within 10 feet of the rear line of said lot.

No Dairy, or Manufactory, nor Business shall be conducted on said premises.

About the middle of the afternoon the man who had the trouble came in. Burdette trembled a little at first, because he didn't know how he might have taken it, but the man wore a broad grin on his face and seemed to be very much tickled over it.

"That was a good one on me in the Howlet this morning," said, the man.

"Er-yes-do you think so?" said Burdette.

"Oh, capital—took it off first class. Did you write it?"

"Oh was: I saratehed it off in a hurry last.

"Oh, yes; I scratched it off in a hurry last night. We have to have something to fill up."

night. We have to have something to his up."

"Of course. But it was really good. I didn't know you could do as well as that," went on the man enthusiastically.

"I didn't think much of it," returned Burdette modestly. "If I had only had a little more time perhaps I might have made something out of it."

"Oh, you had time enough—plenty of time, I assure you. It was fine. Of course I didn't really do all you said I did."

"Oh, of course not. Certainly not. Got to have something lively in a newspaper, you know."

"!I see especially in a live local paper."

"I see especially in a live local paper."

"Tou understand it."

"I think so. Of course I didn't yell like a man with his foot in a lawn mower all the time I was having the controversy."

"Oh, no—we have to exaggerate a little."

"I see. And then I didn't raise the hackman up and pound the face of the earth with him till the police stopped me for wearing out the paying." man up and poulse stopped me ros him till the police stopped me ros the paving."

wouldn't be any doubt but that I could lick you!"

"Oh, n-no; no, sir; not a particle of doubt. Going to the caucus to-night, Colone!"

"I expect to be there, but you won't-you'll be in the hospital-you little, insignificant, one-horse country editor," and he reached out and got Burdette by the collar. "Chased the man out beyond the fair grounds, did I? Roared like the 5:30 express coming back, did I? Roared like the 5:30 express coming back, did I? Roared like the 6:30 express coming back, did I? Roared like the dusher of an old-fashloned churn. "My actions would have made a fish laugh, eh? Howled around till I made the world's back ache, did I?" and all the time he was dancing around the office with Burdette at arm's length. "Oh. you're going to be the great American humorist! No doubt of it at all! You'll make the universe double up and roll on the greas some day! You're funny, oh, so very funny! Just give you a little more practice on me and you can start out lecturing!" and it's hard to tell what would have become of poor Rurdette if a big pressman hadn't some in just then, with his sleeves rolled up and ink on the side of his nose and relieved him. The pressman fought the man ten minutes before he managed to tear his coat off and shut up both his eyes and fire him down the stairs and half way across the side-walk. He accomplished it at last, however, and went back to work, and Burdette gathered himself together and wrote up a solemn account of the death of the oldest Free Mason, who had just passed away.

How the Esquimaux Live.

From the Junesa (Alasza) Free Press.

The Esquimaux (or Mallamonts, as they are called here) live in underground houses (called by them barabas) with rafters to keep the earth firmly up. The doorway, a hole in the ground about 6 feet square, is situated from 10 to 25 feet from the baraba and communicates with the same through a crooked tunnel, which leads first in one direction for 5 or 6 feet, thence at right angles in another direction. At each of the turns hangs a large skin, forming a loose curtain doorway. This tunnel and doorway tway keeps the cold air and winds from striking directly through into the baraba. The chimney, a hole in the center of the roof about four feet square, is covered over at night with a very thin, transparent skin. The natives are very short and stunted, and subsistence of the true of the roof about four feet square, is covered over at night with a very thin, transparent skin. or the commission. They were approved accordingly.

The gvidence is overwhelming, from various setpeces, that the petition of a majority of the court was before President Johnson at the proper time and in the regular established way, and the allegation that it was "kept from him by Gen. Holt" is wicked and malicious.

"kept from him by Gen. Holt" is wicked and malicious.

The statements in Mr. Coyle's publication are all contradicted by a reference to the files of the proper department of the Government; they are of the most reckless nature, full of glaring inaccuracies and gross misrepresentations. The facts in the case are briefly and correctly herein presented. They have been repeated to the country from time to time, and I am in this brief communication simply vindicating the truth of history.

their hair. An unmarried boy wears his hair parted in the middle and carried back to a braided tress hanging down his back, something after the style of very young girls in America. When under 16 or 18 years of age it is often difficult to determine the say; with their effeminate and beardless faces and long hair it certainly puzzles one to determine whether they are male or female. After marriage the long hanging braid is cut off and the remaining hair done up in a knot and carried over the top of the head. The beard is now assidnously cultivated, as of this appendage a Corean is very proud, and the greater the amount of hair over the face*the greater will be the admiration elloited.

The marriage ceremony is not a very complex affair, and usually takes place at the house of the groom. The parents and friends of the two families assemble, and the bride and groom, who probably have never seen or spoken to each other, enter and mount a raised piatform at the end of the room. Here they make a profound how to each other and to their respective parouts, then separate, the groom going to the male and the bride to the female apartments, while the guests drink, eat and make merry.

From the Hartford Courant.

In the announcement of the opening of the department of journalism in Cornell Univer-sity, it is stated that "one great aim will be to sity, it is stated that "one great aim will be to teach the writing of Queen's English. The professor will endeavor to develop in his pupils a nose for news, so that they may know a good thing when they see it." It will be worth a trip to Ithaes to study one of these noses when it is really developed, to the satisfaction of professor and pupil, so that the latter can successfully see with it. After that feature has been thus improved, perhaps a little time may be devoted to pruning the ears of those who think a newspaper can be made in a recitation room.

A big man and a little man entered a saloon on Michigan avenue near Third streat the other day and called for drinks. While the little man lingered over his the big man called the barkeeper aside and asked:

"Ever seen him before?"

"No."

"That's Texas Dick. He is the man who grabbed a grizzly bear by the ear and broke its neck. Don's rise him for he is on a tear and vary dangerous." When the little man received change for a quarter he looked at it in surprise and said:

"I gave you 32."

"No, sir."

What' Call me a liar! I want the change for my 32 bill."

The big man winked vigorously at the barkeeper not to engage in a dispute with the dangerous man, and as a consequence change was made on the new basis and the pair went out to tackle another place. They found it not far away, and it was in charge of a consumptive-looking young man. Everything went smoothly until Texas Dick claimed to have laid down a 32 bill. Then the young man fished up a ciub and went for the two, and they got out doors so fast that they unbinged the fly screen. The other saloonist saw them as they went down the street neck and neck, fleeing from the wrath of a ninety-pound man, and he kicked himself and muttered:

Fortunate Miss Florence Bayard.

From the Washington Post.

Miss Florence Bayard was quite fortunate last week in carrying off prizes, winning first prizes herself at the tennis tournement, and her dog, Derry, bringing home a third prize to his mistress from the dog show. Miss Bayard owns another pet dog which it is said would have surely won a first prize if exhibited, but secretary Bayard thought if the animal did win it would take a fair part of his time and means to keep rescuing it from the hands of the professional dog stealers.

Apaches Led by American Bandits.

From the San Francisco Examiner.

It has been discovered that the little band of Apache Indians who for the past two years have been committing depredations in Monter sums District, Sonora, Mexico, near the Chihauhua line, are led by two Americans, Red Murphy and West. Prof. Sherman, who was attacked by the party a short time ago, saw them with a field glass and recognized both men, who were in the same party a few days ago when it killed a liexioan near the town of Bayisbe, since which time it has been ascertained that the two Americans are the leaders. This band has been sommitting depredations in that vicinity ever since the surrender of Geronimo, the Apache chief, and has committed many murders.

Says a well-known bat-maker: "Nowadays more attention is given to the bat than of old. Ash is now used almost exclusively in the manufacture of these ciubs or sticks, and the best ash obtainable. Much trouble is experienced in setting just the right kind of timber. The best bats are made from wood with extra wide grain and solid timber. The effort is to get the weight as light as possible and yet have the Dat contain the necessary strength and firmness. The weight of the bats will run from 38 to 40 ounces, only the heavy-weight players using the latter weight. Connor, Kelly and Anson all use the 40-ounce bat, but there are not many players of that calibre in the country. You will find the average weight of the bat used by professional players to be about $4 ounces."
